

SKIN DEEP

Did you know that skin is the human body's largest organ?

Skin is far more than just a covering for your body. Skin contains several receptors that help us sense temperature and pain. Skin also helps maintain body temperature through the production of sweat, which cools us down.

Your skin continuously renews itself, shedding hundreds of thousands of cells per day.

Disney
BE HEALTHY
BE ACTIVE